

The Work Number® Alert

Tracking Your Customer's Changes in Employment & Income

The Work Number Alert is part of our employment & income verification service. It provides continual tracking of changes to your customer or client portfolio, delivered on demand per your schedule. The Work Number Alert removes the hassle of managing multiple file submissions and provides proactive notification as new employment information becomes available.

Simply submit a portfolio of customer or client accounts and The Work Number does the work. Initial employment matches are returned on your portfolio right away along with establishing a baseline. You determine the employment fields to monitor and the alert frequency. New clients can be added or existing accounts retired from your baseline. It's easy and flexible.

The Largest Source for Authentic Employment Information

The Work Number specializes in employment and income information. It's direct from the source: the employer. It's current, as of the last pay period. It's delivered quickly— on demand.

The Work Number currently houses employment and income information on 1/3 of the nation's workforce, and is growing everyday. Users are provided with online access to this information that is used individually, for identifying a customer's employment, or matched, for evaluating pools of credit customers.

Consider adding employment & income information to your customer facing process with a service that will "work" for you – The Work Number Alert. Using The Work Number to stay abreast of employment changes can expand your ability to mitigate risk while maximizing product and service potential.
